SUPPLEMENT TO VOLS. I. AND II.

INTRODUCTION TO SUPPLEMENTARY VOLUME.

General Objects of Volume.

In the introduction to the First Volume of the Annual Statement of Trade of the United Kingdom for 1906 it was explained that throughout the Tables in that volume (as also in Volume II.) imports were generally classified as received from the countries whence they were shipped direct to the United Kingdom, but that exports were credited to the country of ultimate destination, except where the country possessed no seaboard, when they were credited to the country in which the port of discharge was situated.

Particulars have been specially collected since the commencement of 1904, however, with regard to the countries from which all imported goods were actually consigned, and the countries of destination of all exported goods, and the main object of the present supplementary volume to the Annual Statement of Trade for 1906 is the comparison of the results of the two methods of classifying imports.

The difference in the methods of classification, as was pointed out in the introduction to the earlier supplementary volumes, chiefly affects the imports, the inclusion of a few countries and colonies which have no seaboard amongst those for which export returns are given only affecting those countries and colonies and the few countries through which the exports destined thereto passed in transit and to which they were originally credited in the Accounts. It has accordingly been considered unnecessary to include in this volume a detailed table relating to the exports of each article to each destination. In order, however, that the principal information collected should not be entirely lost, the export sections of the Table in this Volume which deal with the trade with particular countries (Table No. 10) have been expanded so as to shew in respect of the comparatively few countries affected by the inclusion of Switzerland, Bolivia, and the South African inland colonies full details with regard to the consignments of articles to such countries.

The present volume, like its two predecessors, contains an analysis of the Merchandise consigned from each Foreign Country and British Possession, distinguishing between the portion which was retained in the United Kingdom and the portion which was re-exported to other destinations. In other words an account is given of the imports consigned from each country for consumption in the United Kingdom, i.e., of what is often called, the "special imports" from each country into the United Kingdom.

The various articles of merchandise have been arranged in Tables 6 and 7 under the same headings and in the same order as in the corresponding Tables in Volume I. of the Annual Statement of Trade and the arrangement of countries in Tables No. 10 is the same as in Volume II. of that publication. For the principles underlying the arrangement in both cases reference should be made to the Introduction to those Volumes.

The countries from which goods are consigned are not in all cases the countries of actual origin of the goods, since goods produced in one country may be purchased by a firm in another country from which the goods were despatched to the United Kingdom. In this case the second country would be that from which the goods were consigned and to which they would be credited in this Volume. In the absence of a general requirement by this country of certificates of origin for imported goods, it is not possible to trace such goods back further than to the country from which they were originally consigned to the United Kingdom. In the same way this volume takes no account of any subsequent sale to purchasers in a third country of goods consigned from the United Kingdom to a particular Foreign Country or British Possession.

Arrangement of the Tables.

The first four Tables give for 1906 only, a summary of the results of the system of classifying imports and exports according to the countries from and to which they were consigned as compared with the system previously adopted. Table 1 deals with the trade as a whole, and Tables 2 to 4 with the trade in the principal categories of merchandise between the United Kingdom and Foreign Countries and British Possessions respectively. Table 5 shews for the year 1906 the way in which imports from each country were made up by consignments from various countries and the consignments from each country by imports from various countries. Some reference is made below to the results arising from the change of method, but it may here be stated briefly that the effect of substituting countries from which goods were consigned for countries from which goods were imported is to transfer about £2,250,000 of the imports which were credited in Volumes I and II. to British Possessions to the account of Foreign Countries, whilst the corresponding change in the case of exports involves the transfer in the opposite direction of about £668,000 of British and Irish Produce, and about £73,000 of re-exported goods.

Tables 6 and 7 give detailed particulars of the imports of each article from each country for the years 1905 and 1906 according to the country or colony from which they were consigned. Table 6 relates to free goods, and Table 7 to goods subject to duty.

Table 10 gives for each Foreign Country and British Possession a summary statement of the imports of the different descriptions of merchandise as shown in Volume II. of the annual Statement of Trade, together with particulars as to the quantity and value of the consignments from each Country and Possession. Corresponding information respecting shipments from this country is only included when the consignments to a country or colony differ from the exports thereto. Where the exports are in all respects identical with the consignments a reference is made to the pages of Volume II. on which the particulars will be found. As already explained, the consignments from each country and colony are further subdivided so as to show the portion which was re-exported to other destinations and the portion which was retained in the United Kingdom. The information in this Table is further summarised in Tables 8 and 9 which relate to the total value of the trade between the United Kingdom and each market.

Information as to the bullion and specie imported from and consigned from, and exported to and consigned to each Foreign Country and British Possession is given in the remaining Tables of the Volume (Tables 11 and 12).

General Results of New Method of Classifying Imports and Exports.

Imports.—In the case of goods imported from European countries the Statistics given in Volumes I. and II. of the Annual Statement of Trade shewed only the country in which the port was situated from which the goods were shipped to the United Kingdom. In consequence, practically all the goods consigned from Switzerland and a large proportion of those consigned from Italy and Austria-Hungary are credited in Volumes I. and II. of the Annual Statement to France, Belgium, Netherlands, and Germany. On the other hand, as regards Germany, a large proportion of German goods reaches the United Kingdom via Belgium and Netherlands. As a result the quantity of goods consigned from Germany is on balance greater, whilst the quantity consigned from France, Belgium, and Netherlands is considerably less than the quantity imported from those countries. The "consignments" from Italy and Austria-Hungary are also greater than the "imports" as shown in previous Volumes of the Statement. These are the principal changes so far as the above-named European countries are concerned, though taking European countries as a whole, the "consignments" are less than the "imports" owing to the latter including a certain proportion, though not a large proportion, of goods emanating from extra European sources, but reaching this country via the Continent.

These facts are illustrated in the following Statement:—

	Value of Merchandise.
	Imported from each Country in 1906.	Consigned from each Country in 1906.
	£	£
Netherlands - - - - - -	36,653,519	16,218,366
Belgium - - - - - - -	29,033,441	17,990,753
France - - - - - - -	53,871,661	47,098,935
Germany - - - - - - -	38,021,762	55,907,599
Switzerland - - - - - - -	—	7,913,008
Italy - - - - - - - -	3,612,335	6,568,901
Austria-Hungary - - - - - -	1,212,890	7,008,024
Other European Countries - - - -	90,795,010	91,641,908
Total European Countries - - -	253,200,618	250,347,494

Thus, as practically no merchandise consigned to this country from Europe comes from extra-European ports, it appears that out of about £253,000,000 received from European ports in 1906 £2,900,000 was consigned to this country from countries outside Europe. Of this latter amount the greater part is accounted for by (a) consignments from Mexico, and from Central and Southern America imported via German, French and Belgian ports, and by (b) consignments from Dutch, Portuguese and French colonies imported through the respective mother countries.

Outside Europe the principal fact of importance is the large proportion of consignments from Cuba, Mexico, and to a less extent the Central and South American countries, which come via ports in other countries, both as already stated via European ports and also largely, and in the case of Cuba almost entirely, via United States ports. In the case of the United States the consignments in 1906 practically equalled the imports in that year, though in 1905 the real consignments fell short of the imports by nearly £1,000,000.

In considering the figures with regard to "Consignments" and "Imports" from the United States and from Canada, it must be borne in mind that the figures already given in Volumes I. and II. of the Annual Statement for Imports from Canada and the United States are not based solely on the ports of departure of the goods, but represent to some extent corrected figures. (See Introduction to Volume I.) In consequence the figures given in Table 5 do not exactly indicate the value of the consignments from the United States, which are imported via Canadian ports and vice versa. Taking the figures as they stand, however, it appears that in 1906 of the consignments from Canada, goods to the value of £1,900,000 were "imported" from the United States, whilst of the consignments from the United States, goods to the value of £4,100,000 were "imported" from Canada.

The value of the merchandise consigned from Bolivia amounted to £814,100 (a large increase compared with 1905) from Rhodesia £31,868, from the Transvaal £8,766 and from the Orange River Colony, "nil." These amounts are too small to have seriously affected the figures with regard to the countries through which the merchandise passed on its way to this country. On the other hand a considerable quantity of gold consigned from the Transvaal reaches this country via Cape and Natal ports. The total "consignment" of gold bullion and coin from the Transvaal in 1906 amounted in value to £23,283,119, an amount included in Volume I. of the Annual Statement in the sum of £25,786,194, the value of coin and bullion "imported" from the Cape of Good Hope and Natal.

In the great majority of cases other than those alluded to the value of the "consignments" from particular countries is not widely different from the value of the "imports" from those countries, though exact identity is rare.

As between Foreign Countries as a whole and British Possessions as a whole the difference between the "consignment" and the "import" figures is nearly entirely accounted for by the excess of merchandise classed as imported from Canada over the amount consigned from that colony. Whereas in 1904 the "consignments" from British Possessions exceeded the "imports" by £767,336, in 1905 and 1906 the excess of "imports" over "consignments" was £1,216,829 and £2,250,907 respectively.

Exports.—The changes on the export side are, as already stated, only those involved in the inclusion in the Tables of certain Foreign Countries and British Possessions which have no sea-board (viz.: Switzerland, Bolivia, the Transvaal, Rhodesia and the Orange River Colony), with the result that the exports to the countries of transit containing the ports to which the goods destined for these newly included countries were shipped have been reduced by a corresponding amount. The changes involved are as follows:—

(a.) Exports to Switzerland.—The value of the exports to Switzerland in 1906 was £1,990,671 of which £1,718,032 was British and Irish produce, and £272,639 re-exports of Foreign and Colonial Merchandise. Nearly the whole of this is shipped via Belgian ports, with the result that the exports of British and Irish Produce to Belgium are reduced by the new arrangements by £1,558,243 and the re-exports of Foreign and Colonial Merchandise by £82,674. The amount shipped via ports in other countries appears in the following Statement:—

Exports to Switzerland.

Via Ports in	British and Irish Produce.	Foreign and Colonial Produce.
	£	£
Belgium	1,558,243	82,674
Germany	764	201
Netherlands	21,620	68,828
France	137,356	120,895
Italy	49	41
Austria-Hungary	—	—
	1,718,032	272,639

(b.) Exports to Bolivia.—The value of the exports to Bolivia in 1906 were, British and Irish £163,485, Foreign and Colonial £10,172. The reduction in the exports to Germany, Belgium, and to various South American countries consequent on the crediting of these amounts to Bolivia instead of to the countries containing the ports of discharge was as follows:—

Exports to Bolivia.

Via Ports in	British and Irish Produce.	Foreign and Colonial Produce.
	£	£
Belgium	1,725	—
Germany	1,438	—
Peru	23,838	1,293

(c) Exports to Transvaal, Orange River Colony, and Rhodesia.

The value of the exports to these Colonies in 1906 was as follows:—

——	British and Irish Produce.	Foreign and Colonial Produce.
	£	£
Exports to Transvaal - - - -	2,794,081	291,613
„ to Orange River Colony - -	429,896	36,079
„ to Rhodesia - - - -	311,375	27,620
	3,535,352	355,312

These exports were previously credited to the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, Portuguese East Africa, German West Africa, Zanzibar and Pemba, and East Africa Protectorate to the following extent:—

Exports to Transvaal and Orange River Colony and Rhodesia.

Via Ports in	British and Irish Produce.	Foreign and Colonial Produce.
	£	£
Cape of Good Hope - - - - -	1,958,850	185,499
Natal - - - - - - - -	908,295	96,802
Portuguese East Africa - - - -	668,207	73,000
German West Africa - - - -	—	4
Zanzibar and Pemba - - - -	—	4
East Africa Protectorate - - - -	—	3
	3,535,352	355,312

As will be seen from the above analysis the difference between the value of merchandise "consigned" to British Possessions and the value "exported" to British Possessions arises almost entirely from the fact that a certain quantity of merchandise is sent to Rhodesia and the Transvaal via Delagoa Bay, and has accordingly been previously attributed to Portuguese East Africa. Thus the "consignments" of British and Irish Produce to British Possessions as a whole exceed the "exports" by £668,207, and the "consignments" of Foreign and Colonial Produce exceed the "exports" by £73,004.

Consignments from Various Sources Retained in the United Kingdom.

It is not proposed to give here any general account of the results now available with regard to consignments from various sources retained in the United Kingdom.

It may, however, be of interest to give the results as regards British Possessions as a whole and Foreign Countries as a whole in 1906 :—

	Value of Merchandise consigned to the United Kingdom in 1906.
	Total Value.	Value of the Consignments retained in the United Kingdom.
	£	£
From Foreign Countries - - - - -	467,974,167	422,961,139
„ British Possessions and Protectorates -	139,914,333	99,881,715
Total - -	607,888,500	522,786,020*

* After deducting a sum of £56,834, the value of certain Merchandise re-exported, which was of unknown origin.

ABSTRACT TABLES.

TOTAL VALUE OF THE IMPORT AND EXPORT TRADE OF THE UNITED KINGDOM.

The values of the Imports represent the cost, insurance, and freight; or, when goods are consigned for sale, the latest sale value of such goods. The values of the Exports represent the cost, and the charges of delivering the goods on board the Ship, and are known as the "free on board" values.
